DR. ORLANDO LILLIE PASSES

CRESTON, B.C., Nov. 24.—After an illness extending over more than a year, and which included several weeks' stay in a Calgary hospital, death on Saturday night claimed Dr. Orlando Lillie, at the age of 72 years.

Deceased was a native of Lyn, Leeds county, Ontario, who in 1880 graduated from Albert College, Belleville, Ontario, and two years later opened business colleges at Brockville and Cornwall, Ontario—the first commercial schools to be established in that part of that province.

In 1890 he graduated in dentistry from Toronto University, and practiced his profession at Brockville and Westport, Ontario, until 1916, at which time he came west and was associated with his son, Dr. Roy K. Lillie, in an extensive dental practice at Blairmore and Coleman, Alberta. Finding the altitude not agreeing with his health, deceased came to Creston in 1922 and followed his profession until a little over a year ago, when failing health necessitated his giving up active work permanently.

The funeral took place on Monday with a family service at the house, followed by a service at Trinity United church, both of which were in charge of the pastor, Rev. R. E. C. Cobb. Following the service at Trinity church the remains were shipped to Calgary, Alberta, with E. Cartwright, Jas. Compton, Jas. Cook, R. J. Forbes, John Sherwood and J. W. Robinson officiating as pallbearers. In that city interment took place in Burnside cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

The late Dr. Lillie was married in 1889 to Laura E. Manhardt at Brockville, Ontario, and his widow and one son, Dr. Roy Lillie, of Blairmore, Alberta survive, along with two brothers in eastern Canada, and a sister in Iowa.

At Creston deceased was actively identified with the activities of Trinity church, particularly the Beaver Brotherhood, in addition to which he was treasurer of the local branch of the Canadian Bible Society. He was a Mason, and in politics a staunch Liberal.

In addition to the many who were out to pay their last respects on Monday morning, the many floral tributes eloquently bespoke the high esteem in which deceased was held, and Mrs. Lillie and son have the sincere sympathy of all in their bereavement.

Funeral services for the late Dr. Lillie were held at Calgary on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. George A. Dickson officiating.

The Free Press is not given to kicking very much, but when we saw on the sign board a number of ballots to be used in the local miners' union election, all of which were printed in Lethbridge, we felt that we should at least have had an opportunity to tender on this printing. The Free Press has a staff of four people, all of whom were born and raised in Fernie and all of whom are from miners' families. In spite of hard times of the last year we have never laid any of them off for a single day, even though at times we hardly did enough business to pay wages. In the face of the above facts it would seem a very short-sighted policy for the miners' union to send this work out of the city and out of the province. Mr. Harrison, secretary of the local union, is always very much in evidence when representatives of the B.C. Government are in town, imploring their assistance on behalf of local miners, but what sympathy can his union look for if it spends its money in Alberta printing offices.—Fernie Free Press.

THE RED CROSS NEEDS HELP

Red Cross "Vehicle" almost stuck. A cry for help goes out. Is it worth while to assist? Yes, why?

Some little boy or girl may be deprived of medical care and attention, and be crippled for life if he or she cannot stay in Red Cross hospital a little longer. Think of the disappointment is would mean to you if that child was yours.

Some poor folks in outposts may die because Red Cross could not send nurses. Some unfortunate people will miss the relief they hoped the Red Cross could give them.

There is a greater call on this organization at the present time, owing to general depression, and the Red Cross are finding it difficult to carry on through lack of funds.

We are making a general appeal to the citizens of Blairmore to make an extra effort to help, and make their own Christmas happier by helping someone less fortunate than themselves. Plans have been made to hold a tea and sale of home cooking at the home of Mrs. F. M. Pinkney on Saturday, December 6th, from 3 to 6 p.m., in aid of Canadian Red Cross, and we trust everyone who is able will be willing to do their best to help.

Membership cards will also be obtainable and any contributions gladly received on that day, or at any time, by Mrs. D. A. Howe.

MRS. J. B. RUDD PASSED

AWAY AT CRANBROOK

Creston Valley has lost a well known and respected resident in the death of Mrs. J. B. Rudd, who passed away at Cranbrook hospital, Friday morning in her 80th year. The remains were brought to Creston on Saturday, the funeral taking place on Sunday afternoon from Trinity church, and interment in Creston cemetery.

The late Mrs. Rudd was a native of Saxony, Germany, and at the age of five years came with her parents to Canada and for a time resided at Toronto and New Hamburg, Ontario, as well as at Clare, Michigan, and it was in that town in 1883 that she married, and continued to reside until 1886, when with her husband and family she moved to Baden, Ontario. In 1889 the Rudds came west, making their home in Lethbridge, Alta., for seven years, when they moved to Pincher Creek, thence to Morje, and then to Bellevue, Alta., where they were from 1901 until 1918, when they moved to Wynndel, and have resided ever since on their orchard and small fruit ranch, which was developed from logged off land.

The late Mrs. Rudd was one of a family of nine children and her mother, Mrs. Neidig, of Lethbridge, survives her. A notable incident in her family life is that she was a link in family chain that boasted a great great grandmother, and is now broken by the death of the great grandmother (the late Mrs. Rudd).

The late Mrs. Rudd leaves two daughters, Mrs. R. Dalbow, of Wynndel, and Mrs. Boutry, of Bellevue, Alberta; and three sons, Andrew, of Wynndel; John, of San Francisco, and Gas, of Pincher Creek, Alberta, as well as her mother, four sisters and four brothers.

In a dozen years residence here deceased impressed one with a genuine ability acquired in pioneering in Southern Alberta and in the Pass, coupled with an unselfish devotion to husband and family, and in their great loss the family have the sincere sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

Personality Suffers In Mechanical Age

Toronto Minister Says Victorian Era
Not Altogether To Be Pitted

The rise in general intellectual development in the modern age did not entirely compensate for the loss of the dominating personalities of the Victorian era, Rev. G. Stanley Russell, pastor of Deer Park United Church, Toronto, told members of the Toronto Public School Teachers' Association at its annual meeting. The loss of individuality and personality, he said, was one of the by-products of the enormous increase in mechanical inventions.

The art of hand-writing, he said, was passing because of the prevalence of the typewriter. People "banged" letters to one another on the typewriter, but the day of long hand-written personal epistles had passed its zenith. Because of the invention of the typewriter, people were laying by the use of their hands in writing and because of the advent of the motor car, they were losing their gait. The chance for close observation of nature, and one benefit to health as well, were being sacrificed when people gave up walking.

The glory and personality had likewise gone out of war. Military training, he stated, had no real relationship to warfare today because war had become merely a thing of mechanical and scientific devices.

Much sympathy, he felt, was now being wasted on people who lived in the reign of Victoria. It was a very happy period, he said, despite the jeers which a certain faction of the "moderns" hurled at it.

Reporter Plans Yukon Trip

Newspaper Man From Paris Will Write About Frontier Life In Canada

Sent by his newspaper, "Petit Parisien," to gather data on the north-western parts of Canada, a young Parisian reporter, Allouche, passed through Montreal recently on his way to Yukon and Alaska where he intends studying the romantic and impressive surroundings that inspired Jack London's celebrated novels.

A year ago Mr. Allouche made a trip out west to investigate immigration problems, but this time, his inquiry will cover the life of the mounted police, the prospector, the Eskimo and the missionary. His trip, which has Vancouver as a starting point will extend as far as Ketchikan, Dawson and possibly Nome. Mr. Allouche intends retracing the path of the '98 gold rush.

Similar work, on previous occasions has taken the young French reporter to Morocco and Syria, where he furnished the "Petit Parisien" with magazine material necessitated by intense competition now existing between the feature sections of Parisian newspapers.

New Job For Prince

Sir Phillip Giggis Thinks He Could Lead Emigrant Army

Sir Phillip Giggis, famous war correspondent and author, has submitted to the responsible authorities proposals for a novel overseas settlement crusade led by the Prince of Wales. The first contingent would be of one hundred thousand of the younger men with their womenfolk, who would form new colonies and organized on the same lines as the expeditionary force to France with general headquarters staffed by administrators and experts including engineers, agriculturists and social organizers.

If the Prince went into the distressed areas saying "follow me," the young manhood would follow him in the great adventure if he promised to be their leader to go out with them and visit them from time to time. The Prince alone could break down the political opposition of the Dominions and rally them to a new idea of service on behalf of the motherland," says Sir Phillip.

E. W. Wilson, with a crew of three, has arrived in Nanaimo on the Brixton, "Lady Royal," a 25-ton fishing boat, after crossing the Atlantic, sailing through the Panama Canal and up the Pacific Coast.

The adventurous trip was at times full of hardships and danger. Once when more than 900 miles from land, provisions and water ran low. For two weeks the crew were reduced to one cupful of water a day. By steering into the passenger lanes, the little sloop was eventually sighted by the Matson liner, "Wilhelmina," which supplied food and other necessities.

ZACCHAEUS THE PUBLICAN — A BUSINESS MAN CONVERTED

Golden Text: "The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost."—Luke 19:10.
Lesson: Luke 19:1-10.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 15.

Explanations and Comments

The Resourceful Onlooker, verses 1-4.—When Jesus was passing through Jericho, a great crowd assembled to see Him. The rich Commissioner of Taxes, or chief publican, Zacchaeus by name, being short of stature, realized that he would be unable to see Jesus. And no doubt the hostile crowd elbowed off the hated tax collector. He was, however, a determined and resourceful man, and ran on ahead of the crowd and climbed up into a sycamore tree by the side of the road by which Jesus would pass.

Zacchaeus ran before, we are told. Sometimes a man reveals the secret of his strength in some apparently insignificant deed. The forcefulness of the will of Zacchaeus lies not especially in the fact that he climbed the tree, but in the fact that he ran before. He anticipated Jesus. He saw which way Jesus would pass, and made preparations for the best view. The Self-Invested Guest, verses 5-7. When Jesus reached the sycamore tree He looked up and saw Zacchaeus, and at once called him by name, and said unto him "Make haste, and come down; for today I must abide at thy house." His "must" was that of a shipper who would care for a lost sheep. When Zacchaeus dropped down from the branches with great joy and hailed Jesus, the people began to murmur saying, "He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner."

The Conversion of a Business Man, verses 8-10.—"Think of Zacchaeus on that day of that day! He was the chief among the publicans and he was rich. Full of guile and guile and envy. In the North the quicksilver freezes in the thermometer, which of course ceases to register. But the temperature rises, and the quicksilver becomes at once nimble. So it was with Zacchaeus. In the white, fierce light of embodied righteousness that the quicksilver thawed, conscience acted, and the publican was converted." (W. L. Watkinson). Not a word had been said about the sinner's prayer, yet in the presence of the righteous Lord he voluntarily and promptly made a clean breast of it.

"Ere God forgive the guilt Make man some restitution."

Zacchaeus used the present tense as a word of asserting his future course of action: "Behold, Lord," he said, "I have wrongfully exacted eight of any man, I restore fourfold."

C.P.R. Hotel For London

Arrangements Have Been Made For Securing Suitable Site

Announcement was made by E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, of the acquisition of a site for the hotel proposed to be erected by the company in London, England. Mr. Beatty's statement follows:

"After protracted negotiations, the company has succeeded in securing a hotel site in London, facing Berkeley Square and Bruton Street. The block is a substantial one, containing approximately 77,000 square feet in area. Negotiations for its acquisition are just about completed, and when possession is secured, which will not, however, be for some months yet, the work of construction will commence. In the interim, the company's engineers and architects will proceed with the preparation of preliminary plans. The hotel, when completed, will contain a minimum of six to seven hundred rooms."

Winter Service Arranged

Mail Will Be Carried Into North By Air More Frequently

Arrangements for an air mail service into the Mackenzie River district through the winter of 1930-31 have been made by the Post Office Department according to an announcement in the November supplement to the Canada Official Postal Guide.

The air mail service will supersede all previous mail services to this area and will effect more frequent and speedy communication than has been possible in the past. The frequency of delivery will be increased to more than double, and the time will be reduced to less than half.

The mail service between Herschel Island, Y.T., and Alkavik, N.W.T., will be performed by police patrol. Rao will be served irregularly by police patrol from Fort Resolution.

Safety First

The Sabetha Herald editor is now spending a brief period out of town. Last week the make-up man accidentally added a boxing bout paragraph to the story of the most prominent wedding of the season. ## TOO MUCH ACID may be causing those frequent headaches

WHEN there's too much acid in your stomach, you must force yourself to work, and even pleasures are too great an effort. Appetite lags; the digestion is poor; the whole system suffers.

Laboratory tests show an acid condition is due to errors in our modern diet. But you need not wait to diet your way out of the trouble! Take a tablespoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

It will neutralize the excess acid instantly; make you feel like a new person in just a few moments. Take a little whenever heartburn, sick headaches, nausea, flatulence, indigestion or biliousness show the digestive system is becoming too acid. Whenever you are taking cold or feel sluggish, weak, constipated, Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is a gentle laxative action.

Delightful to take. Endorsed by physicians for 50 years and prescribed everywhere for men, women and children. The genuine is always a liquid; it cannot be made in tablet form. It always bears the name Phillips' for your protection.

CHAPTER V.—Continued.

Nick moved on slowly, reaching Nick's gate and looking up at a doorway beautiful despite its peeling paint. There was no sign of Gay. In Baker'sville most men come home at noon, and at eleven-thirty their wives are in the kitchen. With the unerring instinct of one born and raised in the community, John Maxwell made his way toward the side door.

He saw then, that Gay was in the orchard, hanging some diminutive pink garments on the line. Her back done she glanced across into her neighbor's garden, where, still clad in crisp blue linen, Mrs. Halliday was superintending the setting-out of plants. Glancing up, she caught Gay's eye, and bowed. There was nothing friendly in the anti-something akin to the greeting she had tossed across the square to Nick, a few hours earlier. John Maxwell's grey eyes narrowed. There, as Gay caught sight of him, he smiled.

"Mr. Maxwell! What brings you out this morning?"

"Only the spring. Couldn't seem to settle down to work, and Nick gave me leave to take a holiday."

Gay laughed and said: "Will you stay to dinner with us?"

"Not today. Guess you have enough to do, cooking for your own three boys. Nick's still a boy to me, you know, if he has been married long enough to acquire a family. Do you like your new neighbors, Gay?"

"They had reached the porch, and the girl sank down wearily, glancing at the pocket of her dress, which was held at one corner by a safety pin."

"I hope you don't think I use pins instead of needles for my mending!" Her glance strayed to the trim blue apron, and was watching her husband with an intensity not quite natural in a wife of four years standing. The blue figure in the adjoining garden was also watching; though Nick was serenely unconcerned of an audience. He came, nearer, grained, and said: "So this is how you take a holiday, Mr. Maxwell—calling on my wife? Mind if I kiss her? It's a sort of habit I've acquired."

"A good habit," said John Maxwell quietly. "Don't stop for me!" and the fact did not escape him that as Nick obeyed, Mrs. Halliday, shrugging as if disgusted at this display of family affection, turned away.

"Damn her!" said John Maxwell below his breath.

He said it again when he was in his private sanctum at the bank that afternoon. Nick had insisted that he stay to dinner, and as they started back to work, Mrs. Halliday appeared on her front porch. She didn't speak, but her smile was so intriguing that Nick stopped, exchanged a few words about the garden, presented Mr. Maxwell as his "chief," and, at a subtly expressed hint from the lady, promised to step over after supper and survey her peony plants.

"I've been hard at work in the garden all the morning," she apologized prettily, with a glance at her spotless linen gown. "If you'll forgive my appearance now, I'll promise to look less disreputable this evening."

"You look," Nick instantly replied, "like a part of the garden itself," which bit of gallantry brought a sudden, satisfied light to the woman's eyes.

The walk to the bank was, on the whole, silent. It was as they turned into Main Street that Nick said, as if it were something he'd been considering: "Queer, isn't it, how some women can work in a garden, or round a house, and look so confoundingly neat? Now Gay—"

John Maxwell snorted angrily.

"Next! My dear boy, that woman never set out a plant in her whole life! She stands about looking pretty, and ordering some man to do the dirty work. Take care, Nick, that she doesn't take to ordering you!"

Nick started at the thing village of his old friend; then laughed and said: "To do her dirty work?"

"There are all kinds of dirty work, my boy," answered John Maxwell, so soberly that Nick exclaimed: "Good thunder! Mr. Maxwell, you don't think—"

"I don't think anything," broke in the older man hastily, already fearing that his indiscretion might put ideas into Nick's head; "I don't think anything except that you'd better take care of Gay. She's got hollows in her cheeks."

"They had reached the bank, and without another word its president marched into his private room and slammed the door."

"Damn her!" he said for the second time that day.

Yet, when he cooled off and thought it over, he realized that he had no grounds whatever for his suspicions. As he had said to Gay, Nick was still a boy, though he had shouldered a man's responsibilities. Why shouldn't he enjoy talking with a pretty woman? John Maxwell smiled at the thought that he, himself, was not averse to doing so! Should he blame Nick because Gay seemed tired and listless? Most young mothers were, being unused to broken sleep and sudden loss of freedom. He remembered, and was watching her husband with an intensity not quite natural in a wife of four years standing. The blue figure in the adjoining garden was also watching; though Nick was serenely unconcerned of an audience. "Implacable" May Be Kept In Repair If Plans Are Successful

After a century of service in the Royal Navy, "The Implacable" some 20 years ago, was condemned to be sold. She is the last of the ships present at Trafalgar now actually afloat. Wheatley Cobb persuaded the Admiralty to lend him the ship, and she was moved to Falmouth and maintained at his expense. For the last three summers she has been used as a holiday training ship. Efforts are now being made by naval, military and civil leaders to keep "The Implacable" in repair and provide for its maintenance.

Income Tax Collection Record

Record Breaking Record Is Set By Income Tax Collectors. A new all time record for income tax collections has been set since April 1, 1930, up to the present, $69,059,000 having been deposited with the Federal treasury in that period by Canada's taxpayers. According to announcement at the Department of National Revenue, this total is approximately $2,300,000 ahead of the like period last year.

The record-breaking mark set by the income tax collections is interpreted in government circles as indicating business conditions in the Dominion are favorable. Money, at least, cannot be extremely scarce with the taxpayers paying up so promptly.

Other financial returns for the period under review are not, however, so favorable. The customs revenues have dropped $30,000,000, while excise revenues are down $15,000,000. The drop in the latter is attributed largely to the prohibition of liquor exports to the United States.

New Survey Ships For Canada

Construction at an early date of two hydrographic survey vessels, one for use out of Victoria on the Pacific Coast and the other for the St. Lawrence, is under consideration by the Dominion Government, stated Hon. Alfred Durnan, Minister of Marine, who was in Victoria on an official visit of inspection.

Certain morbid conditions must exist in the stomach and intestines to encourage worms, and they will exist as long as these morbid conditions permit them to. To be rid of them and spare the child suffering, use Miller's Worm Powders. They will correct the digestive irregularities by destroying the worms, conditions favorable to worms will disappear, and the child will have no more suffering from that cause.

Afraid Of The Truth

Impossible To Get Uncensored News From Russia

Complaints are sometimes made that so many British newspapers, including the London Times, do not maintain accredited correspondents in Moscow. But in Russia today there is no place for a responsible correspondent of an independent newspaper. When the Times send a correspondent to Russia it will be to supply its readers with honest and unbiased information, and such information can clearly be neither gathered nor telegraphed by a correspondent working under an arbitrary system of espionage. There is no discrimination in this matter, as is sometimes supposed, between Russia and the rest of the world. If similar conditions were ever to prevail in Italy, for instance, or in Turkey, the correspondent of the Times would instantly be withdrawn, as correspondents have sometimes been withdrawn from foreign countries in the past. It is not the least significant indictment of the present regime in Russia that its leaders are afraid to let the world know the truth—London Times.

The present life is the seed-plot of the future state, and the harvest which we reap in eternity is the same in character and quality as that which now we sow. Every thought we think, every word we speak, every action we perform, every opportunity of service neglected or improved, is a seed sown by us, the fruit of which shall multiply either untold miseries or myriad blessings in the eternity into which we go.

THE HANNA HERALD
ON "LIQUOR"

Through the press, by radio talks and by personal solicitation the liquor battle is being waged within the province. The offensive was begun by the Prohibitionists circulating petitions calling for the abolition of the sale of beer by glass in beer parlors. The Moderationists have replied by inserting advertisements in the press and by broadcast speeches. No responsible person takes action for the repeal or amendment of any law unless that law is found to be either inadequate, or else contrary to all rhyme or reason and opposed to the public welfare. The Prohibitionists have viewed with alarm the steadily increasing sales of liquor within the province, and consider the public welfare is endangered. Any person who has come into contact with the evil that liquor can and does do, must at least feel sympathetic toward the efforts of those who would have this evil curtailed. The Moderation League, in campaigning against interference with the present liquor law, somewhat belies its name. There is nothing moderate about present conditions. One can obtain liquor in immoderate quantities from any vendor store, or consume to capacity in any beer-parlor. The Moderationists ask that the present Act be left alone, and state that they do not want the bootlegger back again. They do not seem to be able to distinguish the difference between a moonshiner and a bootlegger. The bootleggers have never left us, therefore it is futile to talk about having them back again. It is true that the moonshiner has been practically eliminated, but the present-day bootlegger doesn't worry about that so long as the government itself provides the liquor. In fact, certain liquors are popularly known in some quarters as "bootleggers' size."

Although sympathetic toward the prohibition cause, we are definitely and unequivocally opposed to the measures proposed by that party. It is mathematically true that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points, but in a sociological sense the shortest distance to moral improvement is not necessarily the immediate direct route. The average person of Nordic stock may be led, but seldom can be driven toward a moral objective. The abolition of the beer parlor would simply mean increased revenue for the bootlegger and increased consumption of liquor in private homes. In our opinion, the present liquor law is the best possible law under the circumstances confronting us—if that law was enforced in all cases.

The Alberta Control Board is keenly alive to any abuses that develop in connection with the sale of liquor and is doing its utmost to check irregularities. The responsibility however, cannot be left entirely to the Control Board. It needs the co-operation of all classes of people—especially hotel licensees.

The marriage of Miss Annie Hydachak to Mr. Michael Josh took place here on Monday morning last. The young couple have taken up residence in Blairmore.

WILL GET ROCK FROM U.S.

While carrying on its program of development and experimentation with the phosphate beds that its mining department unearthed in the Fervic area, with a view to establishing the means for their utilization, for the great chemical fertilizer industry now being launched at Tadoussac, the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada plans to take advantage for the present of high grade beds in Idaho and Montana.

When the attention of G. G. Blakey, vice-president and general manager of the Consolidated, was called to report on the matter from the American side, he stated:

"For starting up the fertilizer plant we will use a higher grade rock from Montana and Idaho."

"We are keeping up development work and research in the Crow, trying to find rock sufficiently high grade in this side of the line for our purpose."

Simultaneously with this, we are continuing research work on these low grade rocks in the Crow with a view to making them available for future production."

Two immense low-grade phosphate deposits were found by the Consolidated in the Crow, one immediately outside the city of Fernie, and the other at Crow's Nest, close to the Alberta boundary. Both these are being developed, their extent being considered to assure operations based on them of an indefinite life.

Construction of the first unit of the Consolidated's chemical fertilizer plant, begun in the summer of 1929, is now at an advanced stage, and the actual manufacture of triple phosphate is expected to commence in January, utilizing phosphate rock and sulphuric acid produced as a by-product from the furnace gases of the great smelter. The ammonium phosphate type of product will await construction of the ammoniac plant in the spring. The first unit of the new chemical fertilizer industry has involved a capital expenditure of $10,000,000.—Fernie Free Press.

WHY BENNETT FAILED

The Imperial conference failed to ratify Canada's proposal for reciprocal dealings. The British people refused to tax their foodstuffs to give a wider market for Canadian wheat in the British Isles.

Just why Premier Bennett or anyone else expected they would be one of the mysteries. Britain will give Canada preference only when it is profitable for her to do so. Britain, despite all flag waving and "Mother Country" ballyhoo, is not being stampeded. She is facing a crisis in her economic history and the welfare of one or more of the several dominions is of little concern to her.

The sooner Canada realizes that Great Britain is but one of the dominions like herself, the sooner will she recover from industrial chaos. Empire trade is not practical, never was and never will be, only on a small scale. Patriotic speeches, love of motherland, flag waving and idealistic dreams of empire trade, and the general felicitations of a family reunion, fall before the cold calculations of industrialism, the irrevocable laws of supply and demand and the irrefutable proposition that business is not based on friendship.—Kinberley Press.

THE HABITANT

(Pool Member)

I come from off the homestead place With my first load of wheat.

I think I sell two, three, four load To grain company on street.

I drive on the west side of town, The road she's full of trees;

The Pool man on the other side I think he no see me.

I take my check and go up town Some grocery to buy.

That Pool man he come in right then With murder in he's eye.

He say, "Jee, you bootleg. You sell to grain company.

Next time you bring wheat to town You better call see me."

I tell him I got bill to pay For trash and tinner twine

And price at Pool is too low up I think I bootleg mine.

When I get home, Evangeline She meet me at the door.

I tell him then what I have done. She say, "you're straight no more."

My wife she's cross and bawl me out, And says I break contract.

The good Father what he shall say? You do one awful act.

My conscience hurt. I think she's sick. My neighbor no like me.

He tell me, farmers all should stick Like one big company.

My neighbor he don't break contract; He sells grain to the Pool.

And now he get two checks or three. I think me one big fool.

That grain company can come to H—I pool mine from the start.

The Pool member and grain company Is far too close apart.

Some of the timber has arrived for the cribbing to be built along certain portions of the river through town. This constitutes part of the relief work programme.

Chinese coal is coming into British Columbia. A. W. Nelli, M.P. for Co-mox-Alberni, has objected and rightly. Every effort should be made to have the Dominion government impose special duties upon this coal which is mined under cheap labor conditions and which competes seriously against a British Columbia product and an industry which is having none too good a time during the present crisis.—Nelson News.

FINES PEARL WHILE EATING OYSTERS ON C.N.R. TRAIN

On the Canadian National's "Continental Limited," Lionel Simard journeyed from the east to his home at Edmonton, recently.

As he was in the dining car while the train was running on the last leg of its journey, the steward solicitously inquired what his wants would be and suggested that the oysters were especially good. Mr. Simard did not concur at first, but, on second thought—they sometimes are best—decided to have half a dozen.

As he was enjoying them, he felt something hard strike his favorite tooth. On examining the offending material he discovered it was a pearl. Excitement prevailed on the train.

Mr. Simard showed his prize with pride and informed all that he would take the prize to the Hudson's Bay Company for valuation and then would have it made into a ring, which he would retain as one of his most valued possessions.

He rejected several flattering offers to part with the gem, stating it would always be a pleasant reminder of a pleasant trip with most congenial companions on the "Continental Limited."

Commenting on the introduction into the ballot of fool-proof voting machines, which record and add up the casting of ballots without being touched by human hands, an exchange remarks: "What improvement will next be achieved by science in connection with the ballot? We imagine that the succeeding decade will see a fool-proof voter as well as a fool-proof machine. The idea, of course, is not quite new. Mussolini has been using it to great effect in Italy.
Before an election, he announces which candidates are to be returned. The people go to the polls and cast their votes for the designated persons. This is vastly different to the old days in Canada, when voting was open. At that time a representative of each party would stand at either side of the ballot box, and no matter which way you voted, you collected a crack in the jaw."

Sweeping changes in operating be expected in the next few months.

W. M. Neal, general manager of the recently. Local motives will pull trains over a single division, permitting the railway to make use of its newer and more powerful engines capable of hauling a train more unsold metals and was reducing wages,

J. J. Warren, president of the company, said that at the end of September a little more than half a month's production of lead was on hand unsold and a little more than two months' production of zinc, while Beecher sales had been heavy. He added that while the metal bonus paid employees varied with metal prices from month to month, the base wage scale had not been cut.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

In spite of extremely rough weather, a large crowd turned out to the concert and sale of work, which was held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid in the United church on Friday night, the 26th December, 1930. The programme, which consisted of a variety of pleasing numbers of choruses, short plays, recitations, violin and vocal duets, etc., was chiefly given by the village school children. As on previous occasions, the children are again to be congratulated on the splendid way in which they delivered each number. The sale of work consisted of useful articles of handmade clothing, fancy work, home cooking and miscellaneous notions, most all selling readily.

A gentlemen's bridge club was organized here on Monday night, when they had their first play. Mr. Rodier was elected chairman and Mr. Murphy secretary-treasurer. They will hold a drive on every Monday night throughout the season. The gentlemen's five hundred club, which has been running for a number of years, has been reorganized.
They will, as usual, hold their meetings on Thursday night of each week.

Since the recent snow storm has abated, its fury may be realized somewhat by the numerous drifts piled high and wide in and around the village. Nevertheless, the children are whooping and yelling in childhood delight as they coast down the drifts on their sleighs and toboggans from morn till night.

Mrs. Archie Swart gave a very successful children's party at her home on Monday evening, the event being Master Gordon's twelfth birthday.

Unemployment Relief Policies

Unemployment not only casts a sinister shadow over the world today, but the substance of the thing has hundreds of thousands, even millions, of men, women and children in its grip. Admittedly the situation is a serious one, first, because of the actual suffering entailed thereby, but also because it is causing men to "see red," as the saying is, and lose faith in all established and orderly methods of government, society and business. The tendency is to repudiate economic truths, and to try experiments with almost any half-brained proposal that may be advanced. Here lies the real danger for the future, because many of the suggested remedies would result in a state of affairs far worse, and cause more suffering, than the condition they sought to improve and cure.

One suggested temporary remedy for present unemployment that undoubtedly finds support in many quarters is the substitution of handwork, manual labor, for machinery in prosecuting relief works. For example, it is reported that one large United States city is developing a program of winter work that will substitute pick-and-shovel brigades for machines, the object being, of course, to give work to a larger number of men. The same suggestion is being advanced in connection with municipal relief works throughout Canada.

The question is: Should we deliberately abandon our labor-saving devices and revert to the painfully slow methods of yesterday in order to provide jobs for the unemployed? Is it wise to do so, and, in the long run, are the unemployed benefitted thereby? The subject deserves close study.

Without doubt, a good deal of work can be manufactured by substituting primitive manual methods for more efficient machine processes, remarks the New York Journal of Commerce. Indeed, by some systematic elimination of our modern labor-saving devices, it goes on, we could speedily reduce any modern industrialized community to a condition which would require the full-time effort of every able-bodied person to prevent wholesale starvation and death from exposure. But, without carrying the policy to any such lengths, is the suggestion good in any way?

In one of our prairie provinces where much road work is being carried on as a means of providing employment, decision was reached to build a certain road without use of machinery and solely by horses and manual labor. Objection was raised by some people that by using machinery for certain phases of the work, a greater mileage of good road could be constructed for the same money while giving employment to just as many men because of the greater mileage involved. This view was rejected, no machinery was used, and the work proceeded. A total of five miles of graded road was the result. Now it is realized that with the same number of men given work, practically the same expenditure of money, and the use of a certain amount of machinery, three times that mileage could have been constructed. The farmers of the district who were given relief work on that road would have benefited more from fifteen rather than five miles of good road, while in the years to come they must pay their share of the taxation necessitated by this relief expenditure. They gained nothing temporarily, and will lose in the long run.

Fifty men digging a trench for a sewer or other pipe line with pick and shovel will accomplish just so much in a day, but the same fifty men working in conjunction with a trench-digging machine will accomplish several times as much, and with little extra expense. Or fifty men cleaning snow off sidewalks with shovels will do no more than a fraction of the work that the same fifty men following after snow-ploughs will do, yet the same number of men will be given work and practically the same expenditure of public funds be required.

There should be no hasty assumption that the elimination of machinery in carrying out unemployment relief works is wise, or that more work for the unemployed can be thus provided. It does mean, however, that less will be accomplished for the money expended, and for this economic loss everybody, including those at present unemployed, will have to pay through taxation in the years to come.

Other suggested remedies have more to commend them, as, for example, the proposal in Great Britain and Germany to raise the compulsory school attendance age by one year, thus keeping some hundreds of thousands of children in school for a longer period instead of having them forced into employment replacing others now at work, or merely added to the ranks of the idle and out-of-work. There is something constructive in such a policy, benefiting the coming generation of workers, and raising the whole educational standard of the nation.

So, too, is there much to be said in favor of the suggestion that the present six-day or five and a half-day work week be reduced to a five-day work week, or that the present 8-hour day be reduced to a 7-hour or even a 6-hour day. As the head of one of the greatest industrial corporations in the world today recently pointed out, the greater the amount of leisure time enjoyed by the workers of the world, the larger will be their demand for the things necessary to the enjoyment of those leisure hours, thus creating a greater demand than ever for the production of the things they require. This would more men be employed, more goods produced and purchased, a higher, rather than a lower, standard of living created.

Not Good Publicity

Stunt Flying Does Not Help Aviation In Any Way

In the Frankens, N.J., airport on a recent Sunday, 5,000 people were watching the marvels of skill in flight when an airplane driven by veteran Alden H. Russell, went into a tail spin and crashed, injuring Russell seriously and his one passenger fatally. More than these two men were endangered; the crash came within 300 feet of the massed spectators. In Toronto at about the same time a pilot and two women passengers were burned to death in a low crash after stunting.

The friends of commercial aviation in view of the number of such fatalities, may well ask themselves what kind of publicity will most benefit their young industry; the plaudits of the crowd gathered to risk their own lives in seeing reckless pilots risk theirs, or the story of the really remarkable advance that is being made in aviation with a purpose. For, almost unmentioned along with all this dangerous stunting the carrying of air mails and passengers goes on with comparative safety, which should be at attention were not constantly diverted from it by fatal accidents in exhibitions, most easily arranged.

It ought not to take a major accident with a hundred people killed by a plane out of control to open the eyes of aviation authorities to the necessity of curbing the practice of recklessly showing off what wonderful things can be done in the air—with luck, which does not always attend the venture.

A Mother's Anxiety

About Her Delicate Daughter

"She seems to be fading away," said an anxious mother recently about her daughter. Thousands of mothers could say the same thing. Their daughters endure a trying life robbed of all vitality and brightness. Their cheeks are pale; their eyes dull; their step languid and every movement tells of shattered health. If neglected their suffering grows more acute till decline is inevitable.

If your daughter complains of weariness; pains in the side; weakness; headache or backache; her appetite is uncertain and her spirits low—anaemia is the cause. She needs new blood. Give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once for these pills actually renew and enrich the blood. They make sickly girls well and happy; improve the appetite and bring back all the charm and brightness of perfect health. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or by mail at a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Pioneer Paces

Death Of One Of The First White Women Born In Western Canada

The death has taken place of Mrs. Elizabeth Adelaide Mary McKinnon, 77, one of the first white women born in western Canada. A native of Port Garry, daughter of Philip MacQuire, of the Hudson's Bay Company, she went through the Indian rebellion at Fort Garry, and the 1885 Louis Riel rising, when she was living at Qu'Appelle. She was the widow of John McKinnon, contractor, Winnipeg. A resident of British Columbia for 30 years, she was a pioneer of Prince Rupert and had lived here for 12 years.

Cause Of Asthma. No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Dust from the street, from flowers, from grain and various other irritants may set up a trouble impossible to eradicate except through a sure preparation such as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from this scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere.

One of the strangest fairs in the world is to be held at Frankfurt, Germany. Canada and Empire Reforestation. Canada is yearly playing a bigger part in Empire reforestation. Fifty-three per cent. of the tree seed exported has gone to Great Britain; forty per cent. to New Zealand, and the remainder to Australia, Ireland, and other parts of the Empire. ## Marvels Yet To Come

Inventor, Responsible For Train Telephone Has Great Vision For Future

Forecasting the future always is an interesting occupation. While in this respect the chief interest of the public is in the weather for tomorrow, other unusual prognostications attract attention. An article in MacLean's Magazine dealing with the genius of Mr. John C. Burkholder, who is responsible for the "train telephone" in operation on the Canadian National Railways, sets forth other ideas in the mind of this inventor.

Among the marvels that are to come, he sees the time when newspapers will publish in different cities by transmitting the whole edition, page by page, illustrations and all, by telegraph, with only a matter of minutes until the presses are running. City streets are to be three-deckers, and moving sidewalks to do away with street cars. Television and radio will bring from London and New York the greatest stage presentation and "the wheel of fortune" may be turned by the power contained in a glass of water and its plants lighted by rays captured from the sun.

Perhaps, a few decades ago Belamy had such a vision and a great deal of it came true. The world is not slowing down, and possibly the most vivid imagination cannot foresee the marvels that are yet to come.

A Deadly New Rifle

Works Like Machine Gun Even Under Severe Test

The possibility of making every infantryman a machine gunner was demonstrated at Blaisy in the presence of representatives of the War Office, the Royal Air Force and the Admiralty, when a series of tests were made of the Vickers-Berthier land service rifle and the Pedersen self-loading rifle. The machine rifle was subjected to a severe ordeal. It was buried deep in the sandy soil. Then it was required, and in the hands of a capable demonstrator it ticked out single shots, and afterwards spurted out lead at the rate of 450 rounds a minute.

An even more severe test was to submerge the machine rifle in a tank of mud and water of mortar-like consistency. It survived, with its mechanical efficiency and accuracy unimpaired. The weapon was taken into a heap of its component parts in 10 seconds. It was quickly reassembled and ready for action. One thousand rounds rapid were fired on the 100 yards range, that being the average period of its burst of fire.

Western Canada Sugar Production. About 24,000,000 pounds of sugar will be produced this year from sugar beets grown in Southern Alberta. About 14,000 acres of beets were under crop this year. The centre of the industry is at Raymond.

"I wish you could pay a little attention to what I am saying," roared the exasperated barterer to a stubborn witness. "Well," was the reply, "I'm paying as little as I can."

Thirty arrests in seven cities, and seizure of drugs valued at $25,000, were reported by United States federal officers who for six weeks have worked under cover in an effort to smash what they described as an "international drug ring—one of the biggest and most powerful in the United States."

The secret government agents caught the arrests in Syracuse, Buffalo, N.Y., Utica, Albany, Troy and Schenectady. The coup was said to have been engineered by narcotic officials at Washington and New York.

Three were taken into custody in Syracuse Saturday night, Nov. 1, after undercover men, who had gained the confidence of several of the men, said by them to be members of the ring, were lured to Syracuse with invitations to a "wild party."

CARRY-OVER OF WHEAT FOR 1931 MAY BE LESS

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada had a surplus of 313,000 bushels of wheat on Oct. 31, according to an estimate in the review of wheat conditions issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. If the present sales policy is continued, the carry-over at the end of the present season (July 31, 1931), will be less than last July. The review states:

"The carry-over of wheat in Canada at July 31, 1930, was 122,000 bushels and the total 1930 wheat crop is now estimated at 398,000 bushels. Allowing 110,000 bushels for seed, home consumption and unmarketable grain, and adding 85,000, 000 bushels exported in the period up to October 31, accounts for a total of 193,000 bushels."

On the basis of the official estimates of carry-over and production, a surplus of about 313,000 bushels existed at October 31, and it is seen that a continuation of present sales policy will result in a reduced carry-over in 1931. A great deal depends upon economic conditions as well as economic policy in the United Kingdom and Europe. The reduction of Northern American supplies to normal before the 1931-32 season will be an important factor.

The 1931-32 season will be an important factor in future price levels. The fall movement of grain from the head of the lakes assumes adequate stocks in ready position for winter export. The fortunate distribution of the Canadian wheat crop according to quality will also be a high quality factor.

The helpful wheat for eastern shipment and the low quality wheat suitable for the Orient are in the most favorable situations for export movement, the former being centered in Manitoba and Southern Saskatchewan, while the latter covers the northern and central portions of Alberta and Western Saskatchewan.

"After a slack period during most of October, daily deliveries of wheat began to exceed those of the same date last year on October 25, and since that date the daily average for the 1930 crop has continually widened the increase over the 1929 total."

In the crop season up to November 11, the total wheat marketed in 1930 was 196,898,000 bushels compared to 180,600,000 bushels in 1929. The provisional estimate of the 1930 wheat crop of the west was made on November 13, and forecasted a crop of 374,000,000 bushels. On this amount, about 42,000,000 bushels will be retained for seed in the west and at least 15,000,000 bushels will be unmarketable or lost in cleaning on the farms.

Estimates will be made later of the amount fed on farms and custom milled by country mills for consumption on western farms. On the basis of the provisional estimate, with reasonable deductions for valid items, probably 110-115 million bushels of wheat were still held by western farmers on November 11th.

No Change Likely

Tariff At Churchill To Be Same As Other Canadian Ports

Ottawa, Ont.—It may be taken for granted that the present government is not contemplating a tariff schedule on goods coming into Canada at Churchill that would be different from the tariff on goods coming at any other Canadian port. This was the opinion expressed in government circles here in reference to the proposal by Hon. R. A. Hoey, acting premier of Manitoba, that Churchill be made a free port of entry for British goods coming to Canada.

A number of ports in Europe are known as "free ports." Goods may be shipped into storage in such ports without any customs restrictions and then sold. However, such imports have to meet the tariffs of the countries to which they are ultimately consigned.

To Stabilize Wheat Prices

Advocate Measure To Restore Confidence and Ameliorate Western Conditions

Portage la Prairie, Man.—Organized agriculture of the prairies stands four square back of the premier's pilgrimage to the east to seek Dominion government aid for the west. In annual convention here, United Farmers of Manitoba gave their endorsement to the premier's mission to gain Dominion assistance in restoring confidence and in ameliorating conditions in the west.

Already United Farmers of Alberta and United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section have taken a stand in favor of fixed prices for wheat by means of Dominion intervention, admittedly the object of the prairie premier's journey to Ottawa. The Manitoba body, however, erased all mention of price fixing from the resolution which it approved unanimously.

Though Manitoba farmers adopted no policy on "pegged" wheat prices, as advocated by George H. Williams, president of the Saskatchewan body, they decided to send a representative to the interprovincial conference in Saskatoon. At this meeting, the matter of stabilized grain prices by government intervention will be considered.

The Manitoba delegation will be bound to no specific move with regard to steps to be taken at the meeting. In the course of open debate on the question, Mr. Williams stated that United Farmers of Ontario and the Canadian Council of Agriculture would be represented at the meeting, as well as prairie farm body delegates. The Manitoba convention approved the action of its directors in deciding to send a delegation to the Saskatoon party, scheduled November 26 to 28.

Exhibit Of Choicest Products

Varied Display Seen At Royal Winter Fair In Toronto

Toronto, Ont.—The choicest of Canada's agricultural products and the bluebloods of her cattle, domestic animals and poultry were on display here, when, without any ceremony or speech-making, the gates of the former Royal Winter Fair were opened to the public. Housed in the buildings at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds were hundreds of horses, livestock, poultry, fowls, and cats and dogs, seeking glory in their respective classes, while in other buildings were stables and stalls of fruit, flowers, dairy products, seed grains—the crop and the most varied show was the great display of apples, entered for competition by farmers and associations from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia. The displays consist of boxes of apples packed for shipment and placed one box beside the other, 10 crates high and 25 crates wide, forming a great glistering sea of red and green.

The show was officially opened by Sir Robert Borden, when the former premier addressed the throng in the huge Coliseum. Perhaps the most varied show was the great display of apples, entered for competition by farmers and associations from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia. The displays consist of boxes of apples packed for shipment and placed one box beside the other, 10 crates high and 25 crates wide, forming a great glistering sea of red and green.

Wheat Acreage Should Not Be Reduced

Would Be Economic Fallacy In Opinion Of H. S. Fry

Toronto, Ont.—Reduction of acreage seeded to wheat by farmers of western Canada, in an effort to cut down production and thus limit the exportable surplus of stocks, would be an economic fallacy, in the opinion of Harold S. Fry, of Regina, chairman of the general publicity committee of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, which will be held in Saskatchewan's capital in 1932. Mr. Fry is also publicity director of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool.

According to Mr. Fry, Canada produces in largest quantities the world's best hard spring wheat and ranks as the world's greatest exporter of wheat. He held it paramount that Canada maintain this supremacy. Either by finding new markets for wheat, lessening the cost of production, finding new uses for wheat, or a combination of all three.

Advocates Free Port

Portage la Prairie, Man.—Proposal that Churchill, the West's sea harbor on Hudson Bay, be declared a free port of entry for British goods, was made by Hon. R. A. Hoey, acting premier of Manitoba, at the annual convention of the United Farmers of Manitoba. He contended that such a move would tend measurably towards the establishment of the West's agriculture on a permanently profitable basis.

Rapid Telegraphy

Telegraph Transmission At A Speed of 9,120 Words A Minute

London, Ont.—Addressing the London branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada here, R. B. Steele, assistant chief engineer of the Canadian National Telegraph, announced telegraph transmission at the speed of 9,120 words a minute would be made possible shortly by further extension of the carrier current system.

In 1927, Mr. Steele said, the C.N. Telegraph increased by means of carrier current the capacity of a pair of wires from 400 words a minute to 4,120 words a minute for a single pair of wires. Further development of the system now made possible the transmission of 9,120 words a minute for a single pair of wires.

Sir Henry Thornton, Says C.N.R. Has No Complaint Regarding Treatment By Present Government

Ottawa, Ont.—Interviewed here Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, said: "I have no particular comment to make upon recent rumors and reports relating to the Canadian National Railways other than to say that the administration has not the slightest complaint regarding its treatment by the present government and has no apprehensions with respect to the future. We have good steady jobs minding our own business and trying to operate the railway. There does not seem to be any immediate reason for undue excitement."

Sir Henry spent some time in conference with Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, who returned this week after a tour of the Maritimes. Only routine matters were under discussion, it was stated afterwards.

Decrease In Fall Grain

Interesting Report Issued By Dominion Bureau Of Statistics

Ottawa, Ont.—The area sown to fall wheat in Canada for the season 1931 as of Oct. 31, 1930, is estimated at 894,000 acres in a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This represents a decrease of 148,000 acres, when compared with the total of 1,042,000 acres sown last year.

Independence For India

Voice Of Islam Heard At Round Table Conference In London

London, England.—India's round-table conference heard a voice from Islam in a demand for complete independence.

"I do not come to ask for Dominion status," exclaimed Muhammad Ali, one of the foremost All India leaders and a leader of the all-India Muslim League. "I do not believe in the attainment of Dominion status. The one thing to which I am committed is complete independence."

The Hindus and the Moslems alike challenged the Conservative view, expressed by Lord Peel, when the former secretary of state for India declared Dominion status had not been promised as an immediate gift, but had merely been pointed as a goal by the present Viceroy of India, Lord Irwin.

"I want to go back to my own country," Muhammad Ali declared, "only if I can go back with the substance of freedom in my hand. Otherwise I will not go back to the slave country. You will have to give me a grave here."

"We will be satisfied with nothing less than full responsible government," insisted Dr. B. S. Moonje, head of the Hindu Mahasabha, or protection society.

A NEW FARM POLICY PROPOSED BY GOVERNMENT

Toronto, Ont.—A Dominion agricultural policy is proclaimed by Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture. On the occasion of the opening of the Royal Winter Fair, the minister enunciated important policies, adopted after three days' deliberation of the provincial ministers of agriculture and to be known as the "national agricultural policy."

Declaring that at the present period of depression new and drastic steps in the right direction should be taken, and insisting on the necessity of co-operation throughout agricultural Canada, the minister introduced four measures designed to remedy the situation and bolster "Canada's chief industry." They are:

1. The introduction of better blood in herds.
2. The scientific use of home grown products for herd feeding purposes.
3. Careful study of the science of marketing.
4. The prevention of implantation and spread of poultry diseases.

One of his ambitions and reiterated policies, said Mr. Weir, was to find a machinery by which every farmer throughout the country could be made aware of the changes in agricultural methods and of the improvement in farming conditions. This he had discovered, he said, as the result of the conference with provincial agricultural leaders.

"It has been agreed that the provincial departments of agriculture and all the machinery at their service, will transmit and interpret the farming news of Canada every possible advance or policy which the Dominion Department of Agriculture, after consideration and consultation, will consider beneficial to the farming population as a whole."

This, of course, with the least possible delay and at the lowest cost.

In the cost of production and scientific production—that is the production of market requirements were two fundamental principles that had not been lost sight of.

The minister made a brief analysis of his four major propositions. Considering the difficulty the average farmer experienced in procuring a first class sire, whereby he might improve the blood of his cattle and the general usefulness of his stock, Mr. Weir undertook to supply free of cost to any group of energetic and daring farmers a sire to be used during a period of two years. This, he thought, would eliminate expense and a useless waste of time and energy and encourage one of the more necessary and wholesome steps in the raising of profitable and sound stock.

Because of present conditions, the minister foresaw a very definite increase in pork production during the next few years. This he did not advise, but felt that because of the inevitable trend, steps should be taken to direct that increased production. In his opinion this would be best done by supplying farmers with breed sows of the fine bacon type at cost and at half transportation price. This would eventually mean that the right quality of bacon could be procured for home consumption and exportation with substantial remuneration for the farmer.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE PLAN WAITS ON CENSUS

Toronto, Ont.—The Dominion Government awaits the completion of the 1931 census before it will apply itself to the question of national unemployment insurance, Senator Robertson, Federal Minister of Labor, intimated in an address to the Ontario community welfare council.

Senator Robertson said from seven to ten of the questions to be asked for all citizens in the census next June will deal with employment and unemployment. It was hoped, he said, in this way to gain a complete picture of the situation at a more normal season of the year than now.

Senator Robertson believed that, with the end of Soviet Russia's attempt to disorganize the world economy, the conditions would begin improving almost overnight. "As soon as it is evident," he said, "that this latest attempt to Communize the world has failed, then almost overnight you will see a revival of trade and a restoration of confidence. With confidence restored, credit conditions will improve and more credit means more business, and more business means more employment."

The speaker gave a detailed account of the Federal Government's $20,000,000 unemployment relief plan. So far, with the provinces and the municipalities co-operating, there was $46,000,000 worth of government or municipal work under way or being started to relieve unemployment, and $23,000,000 worth more under way or being started by the railways.

Hon. Dr. J. D. Monteith, Minister of Labor and Public Works for Ontario, was most optimistic about the return of prosperity. "There will be a restoration next spring or summer," he said. "You would be surprised how the expenditures of the various governments on public works have improved the morale of the people. The province as a whole has greatly improved. The depression has lifted and we are looking forward to a restoration of better times."

W. L. Carlyle, manager of the E.P. ranch, said recently.

Under the present Liquor Act of Alberta there is the closest supervision of all licensed hotels and a plan of continued improvement of the operation of Hotels is possible only under the Act as it now stands.
